PRACTICE EXPERIENCE

Michael Mantovani is an associate attorney serving in the firm's litigation and corporate practice groups. Prior to joining Taylor Nelson, Michael's practice focused on managing complex matters, including medical malpractice, professional liability, premises liability, and automotive liability. His background allows him to offer a well-rounded skillset to a wide range of clients. Importantly, Michael always strives to achieve the most effective and efficient result for his clients.

Michael graduated from St. John's University of Law, Dean's List. During his time in law school, he excelled as a Director of External Competitions for the Moot Court Honor Society, receiving recognition as a top oralist and brief writer in moot court competitions. He received his undergraduate degree in English from Stony Brook University.

Michael lives in St. Petersburg. In his free time he enjoys playing fetch with his dog, Stormie, baking, cooking, and playing chess, softball and basketball.
