PRACTICE EXPERIENCE

Jeffrey Stupp offers extensive legal expertise in transportation, covering claims, litigation, worker's compensation, safety, risk management, HR, insurance, contracts, and transactions. He believes in proactive risk management as key to prevention and finds it rewarding to guide clients in this area. A skilled litigator, Jeff excels in defending clients in court, handling cases from catastrophic injuries to commercial disputes. He collaborates closely with clients to secure favorable outcomes and has a strong track record in various types of litigation.

Beyond litigation, Jeff advises on all stages of the contract cycle, including drafting and negotiating agreements for shippers, carriers, brokers, independent contractors, vendors, and more. He is also experienced in leading due diligence for transactions and ensuring smooth integration of safety and risk management post-transaction.

Starting his career in a Cleveland defense firm specializing in trucking and logistics, Jeff is licensed in Ohio and resides in the Cleveland area with his three children.
